

CROSS-CULTURAL RESEARCH
The Journal of Comparative Social Science

Volume 39, Number 2 / May 2005

SPECIAL ISSUE:
CROSS-CULTURAL STUDIES IN COLOR
CATEGORIZATION, NAMING, AND COGNITION
PART II

Guest Editors: Kimberly A. Jameson and Nancy Alvarado

Explanation and Color-Naming Research Don Dedrick	111
Confidence Judgments on Color Category Best Exemplars Nancy Alvarado, Kimberly A. Jameson	134
Why GRUE? An Interpoint-Distance Model Analysis of Composite Color Categories Kimberly A. Jameson	159
So-Called Brightness in Color Ethnography: Potentials for LCD Technology in Fieldwork and Categorization Research Robert E. MacLaury	195

Readers are referred to Part I (Cross-Cultural Research, Volume 39, Number 1, February, 2005) for the dedication of this special issue to R. E. MacLaury and for introductory definitions and concepts discussed in both Parts I and II.

SAGE Publications  Thousand Oaks • London • New Delhi